Steven Friedman is a trained classical tenor and an internationally recognized historian of Broadway musicals. He has performed in venues including the Kennedy Center, and has studied with leading teachers nationally, including divas of the Metropolitan Opera. He is an adjunct faculty member at two colleges where he teaches a variety of classes in musical theatre and he is a frequent lecturer on cruise lines world-wide where he provides intriguing background about musical theater. His recent book, The Ultimate Broadway Musical List Book, considers the history of the Broadway musical from the unique perspective of the bests and worsts of various eras, the groundbreaking shows and forgotten gems.

These presentations are open to members of the community, there is no charge to attend. For more information—contact fredj@vinsonhall.org
